Challenges for Julia Donaldson and Sue Hendra classes to complete during week commencing 4th May 2020.

A quiet night in by Jill Murphy

Watch Mrs Coulton read the story 'A quiet night in' by Jill Murphy on Flipgrid.

<https://flipgrid.com/f505a646>

Tell a grown up about the story. Who were the characters? What happened? What happened at the end of the book? Where did the story happen?

Make sure you watch Ms Frost and Mrs Chivers read stories too.

You might see some other people you know reading a story aswell!!!

Make an elephant! It could be a junk model elephant? Or an elephant collage? Or a playdough elephant? It's up to you!

Sharing the sweets.

Mr and Mrs Large have 4 children.

They have 8 sweets to share. How many sweets will the children have each? What if they have 12 sweets to share?

How many sweets would they need so each of the children could have 5 sweets.

Can you be an elephant?

You could make yourself a mask!

Think about how an elephant would move. What noise would it make? What other animals could you be? Maybe a mouse? Or a bear? Or a gruffalo? How would they move? Would they be noisy or quiet?

Can you sit quietly for 5 minutes? Or maybe a bit less?

Ask a grown up to time you!

While you are being quiet think about all the things you can hear. You could write a list of everything you can hear. Start each sentence like this

• I can hear....

You could do it inside and then outside to see if you can hear different things.

What can you find out about elephants? How big are they?

Where do they live? What do they eat? Why do they have big ears? What are their tusks for?

Parents: Thank you for your continued support! Make sure you put pictures of the children's work or the children completing activities on Twitter. We would love to see all the different things they are doing! @QueensmeadGDFT
