

Design a Poster to market your product

Now design a poster with a picture of your product included to appeal to children at school.

You could try making your product if you are able to at home and include a photograph.

Finally, evaluate your product by answering these questions:

Is the product healthy?

Does the product appeal to many people?

Can the product be made cheaply enough?