

Spelling, Punctuation and Grammar

1. Circle the correct spellings to complete the sentences below.

Without hesitacian/hesitasion/hesitation, Jenna knocked on the cottage door. The old lady gave her permission/permission/permician for the actors to enter her home. They had a discussion/discusstion/discusscian about what had been happening outside.

2. Select the correct homophones to complete the following sentence.

“You’ve bean/been causing quite a rumpus out there/their, horses and bares/bears making all sorts of noise.”

3. Look at the sentences below. Add a comma after each fronted adverbial.

Curling up next to the goldfish bowl the cat announced that it was going to have a nap.

After examining Sam the old lady reassured the actors that he would be fine.

By the time Mama’s story was finished the family had reached dry land.

4. An error is underlined in the sentence below. Write the correction in the box.

The children’s journey had ended; they was on dry land at last.

5. Rewrite the sentence below so that it has the correct punctuation.

come in replied a cheery voice from inside